Upgrade your cooking spoon collection with our Bakelite handle spoons! Available in three differently styled bowls (slotted, solid, and perforated), these spoons can scoop, serve, strain, and more. Plus, their stainless steel construction is sturdy enough to stir, but light enough to handle. Measuring at a total length of 13" and featuring cool-touch Bakelite handles, these spoons also protect you from burns while working with hot kitchen components and foods. Best of all, you can hang them when not in use, so they won't make a dent in your kitchen's storage!

Stir, scoop, and serve with this versatile Bakelite-handled perforated spoon! Featuring a durable stainless steel bowl, this spoon makes it easy to scoop your delicious noodles, fruit salads, black beans, chickpeas, and other salad bar ingredients. Because of the bowl's perforated design, this spoon drains liquids to keep your dishes from getting soggy or full of water! Plus, the spoon's 13" overall length keeps your hands a safe distance from hot surfaces, so you can even stir and mix foods while cooking on the stove – free of burns. Designed for commercial use, this spoon is constructed with a black Bakelite handle that offers a secure, comfortable grip for increased efficiency. When not in use, the handle has a convenient hanging hole for space-saving storage. Use this high-quality spoon at your buffet line, catered event, restaurant, deli, or hotel. Dishwasher safe for hassle-free handling.
