Did you know fries are ranked as one of the most ordered food items at restaurants? Keep up with the high demand with American Metalcraft's french fry scoops! Our scoops are crafted from durable stainless steel, and have plastic handles to protect hands from heat. Because of the large top opening, you can efficiently scoop up large quantities of fries in one go. There's also a built-in funnel, so you can pour fries directly into serving containers free of spills! Choose between right-handed or ambidextrous use.
