These melamine-constructed terracotta-style flower pots aren't designed hold soil, but they might just plant seeds of culinary creativity, especially in outdoor settings. Fun. Versatile. Durable. They'll lend a stylish flourish to everything from BBQ to sides to desserts, and whatever you dream up. Talk about a fresh take on dining al fresco!

This 3-1/2 ounce melamine-constructed pot is designed to accentuate any of your culinary creations and provide a homespun, adventurous al fresco touch. Use it for salad dressing, ketchup, aioli, or just about any condiment that accompanies your other dishes. But unlike actual terracotta, these pots are easy-to-sanitize and darn near unbreakable. You can knock them around, you can knock them over, but you can't knock them out of service.
